DANIELSON

Mrs. Marcella S. Cook Hopkins, wife of Timothy E. Hopkins, died at her home here just before 3 o'clock Friday morning. Mrs. Hopkins fell and suffered a fracture of her hip at her home a few weeks ago and since the accident had failed rapidly.

Mrs. Hopkins was born in Woonsocket, a daughter of James S. and Elizabeth A. Sawyer. She was married to Mr. Hopkins on May 13, 1889. Their children are Mrs. Elsie M. Young and Earl M. Young, the latter of Worcester.

Mrs. Hopkins had been a resident of Danielson for about 41 years, coming here with her husband in 1890, when Mr. Hopkins, who survives, engaged in the woolen manufacturing business in this town.

Mrs. Hopkins was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and of the Ladies' Reading Circle, with which she had been identified for years. She was a woman of exceptional grace and talents and her death will be a source of regret to a great many persons.

Miss Louise Hargrave, 5, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hargrave, Railroad street, Thursday night, following injuries received earlier in the week when a child was crushed between the side of a barn door and the side of a car which Mr. Hargrave was backing out of the building. Excepting for a few minutes, the child never regained consciousness after being injured. The parents and other relatives are greatly distressed over what was an unavoidable accident. The father not being aware that the child had stepped upon the running board of the car just as it began to move.

Members of the high school will have an opportunity to hear about the high school that is proposed to be built in the town of Danielson when a meeting is held in Franco-American hall next Tuesday evening. At a recent meeting in Plainfield the matter of building the school was discussed and tentative plans formulated. The coming meeting will give the citizens at Danielson their opportunity to hear about the plan.

School Street garage carries in stock four quick-selling piston rings for all popular makes of cars—48.

Damage estimated at $200 was caused by a fire that ran up between the partitions at the home of Henry M. Thompson, North Main street, Thursday evening. Members of the fire department who were at the central station attending a meeting were sent with the alarm pump in a hurry after the telephone alarm came in. The fire is believed to have been caused from the fireplace and as the fire spread it consumed the paper and plastering on the wall and damaged the floor.

Rev. Edward Campion Acheson, D.D., suffragan bishop of Connecticut, will confer the rite of confirmation at the 10:45 service at St. Alban's church, Sunday morning and will also preach. Bishop Acheson also will be the celebrant at the early morning service.

Optional routes are being considered for the proposed new route to the Riverdale bridge. The route that may be recommended by the committee would enter into the heart of the business section. Such recommendations as may be made by the committee—Thomas A. Bradford, A. C. Hill and John A. Gilbert—appointed by the annual town meeting to investigate the matter will be made to a later town meeting, which may then decide what action shall be taken.

Judge James N. Tucker of East Killingly writes: Orion, Center of the Rhode Island game preserve of 1,000 acres comprises a fine open winter. Mr. Tucker lives about on the tip top of Rhode Island and he says that the approaching weather from afar. He has successfully managed the weather for many years. We would sooner take his word than the prognostications of a dozen guess houses like those used by our grandmothers.

All the territory about the East Killingly section is now in a blaze of glorious autumn foliage and motorists from this section are delighted with the routes thereabouts, especially in the Taconic valley region. Cold nights of this week have added the most wonderful touches of coloring to the trees and shrubbery in that section.

Following is the list of honor students at Killingly High school for September. Eleven names comprise the highest honors list for the month of September.

PUTNAM

What is close to a world's record for milk production by a 3 year old Holstein-Friesian cow has just been made in a seven days' experiment by Pine Cliff Farm, one of the herds of thoroughbred at Mantop farm, of which E. C. Rogers is the owner, in the Gary district of this town. The cow came to test at 11 o'clock Thursday night after having produced 601 pounds of milk in seven days. A representative of the Connecticut Agricultural college was present during the period of the test.

Mr. Rogers is president of the Windham County Holstein-Friesian association, which is doing a great deal to improve the quality of the herds in this county and incidentally set a higher standard for dairy farms throughout Connecticut. What is being done along this line is indicated by the remarkable record just turned in by the cow mentioned here. Mr. Rogers was very pleased on Friday with the outcome of the test and record, which will compare very favorably with the best that has been done along milk producing lines by cows of the breed and age in this county.

Adams Sampson was fined $150 when presented before Judge M. H. Giesler in the city court Friday morning for a violation of the liquor law. Sampson got into difficulties because some of his employees did not like his attitude on certain matters that recently transpired and is alleged to have caused them financial losses, and when he declined to give them the money, according to their story to the police, they just slipped around to the police station and whispered some information into Captain J. H. Bulger's ear. The information was interesting to the police, causing the arrest of Sampson, who has been dabbled in the moonshine game of late. Sampson said he did not have the amount of the fine imposed upon him in court and would go to jail and work it out.

The quarterly meeting of the Windham County Y. M. C. A. committee was held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce here Friday afternoon with members present representing various towns of the county. Rev. Doynton Merrill of the Putnam Congregational church led in the opening devotional exercises. Harry Hodges Smith of New Haven was in attendance and participated in the discussion, and County Secretary Corbett presented a report on the progress of the county work to date.

At the suggestion of Principal E. H.

at the Killingly high school. The list follows:

Seniors—Evela Pate, Irma Perry, Emily Pike.

Sophomores—Amy Wells, Mildred Wilke.

Freshmen—Alma Forster, Frank Nash, Marlette Paine, Ruth Spencer, Frances Tillinghast.

Honors: Seniors—Ruth Adams, Harry Back, Thelma Bruce, Paul Bitgood, Pearl Burdick, Helen Cronin, Lucille Downs, Helen Hopkins, Dorothy Logee, Amy Potter, Clifford Smith, Leo Vines.

Juniors—Ella Babson, Mary Elliott, Evelyn Jette, Henry Milne, Byron Parker, Ernestine Stocking.

Sophomores—Anita Berthelme, Florette Bouhaine, Margaret Burton, Mildred Corbridge, Edwin Davis, Eugene Downs, Leslie Downs, Elizabeth Frances, Louise Hargrave, Doris Hope, Ruth Spaulding, Shirley Jackson, Germain Meunier.

There is a possibility of another police officer being added to the number working on duty in the borough, the men working in eight hour shifts. This will keep the business section patrolled at all times and allow of even more watchful service than is now given by the men doing duty. A police signal light installed some time since will be put into use next week.

The Club Social has appointed a committee to make arrangements for a carnival.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fournier, Joseph Tetreault and Arthur Vines have been at Lewiston this week attending a convention of Union St. John Baptist.

Herbert D. Fawcett of Fall River is spending the week-end with friends in Danielson.

Mrs. Sarah Woods has returned to her home in Rutland, Mass., after visiting friends here for some time.

The new police signal, which was connected up on Friday, will make it possible for persons to call an officer in times of emergency. The warning has been issued, though, that discretion should be used in calling an officer off his beat and that when he is called it should be exclusively to perform police duties.

It is claimed that Danielson's parking regulations, which have proved very effective in keeping the business section free from cars that have been here for years, has had the unexpected and regretful effect of keeping some out of town shoppers away from Danielson.

These objections, it is claimed, say they do not come here because they cannot park their cars in the main streets of the business section for a sufficient time on Saturdays to do their shopping, and that on Saturday evening they hesitate to park their cars in side streets for fear of losing spare tires, robes and other equipment from their cars. The matter is one that may receive attention from the chamber of commerce, for Danielson wants to please people who would come here and trade and will receive every effort to see that such out of town traders are satisfied.

Lester Wheeler of the United Concert orchestra is seeking one trombone and clarinet players. The orchestra has commenced rehearsing and will meet regularly Wednesday evenings.

James A. Wilson of Providence visited with friends in Danielson on Friday. The county commissioners and sheriff of the county were at the jail at Brookline Friday for one of their periodic meetings.

Attorney Harry E. Back is being visited by many friends, on his return after two weeks' stay at the Corey Hill hospital, Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. West, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright, and Miss Amelia Bush, all of Westbury, R. I., and Terrence Brunson of Southbridge, Mass., were guests Sunday of Mrs. Eliza Brewster and Jack Peeney at the former's home in Danville.

Snow of the high school, a memorial tribute was paid this week to Ellsworth

Sabin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sabin, who lost his life a year ago this week when he was electrocuted while handling wires that were being strung in connection with the erection of an amateur wireless station, members of the class of 1923 visiting the graves of their classmate in Grove street cemetery and laying flowers upon it. Tapes were sounded as a part of the ceremony to honor the memory of their departed friend.

County Commissioners John A. Dady

of this city, E. H. Corbett of Thompson and Urege LaFrance of Central Village, with Sheriff Charles A. Gates of Williamsville, made one of their periodical visits to the county jail at Brookline on Friday and gave their attention to county business. The annual report of the commissioners will be issued about the latter part of the month and promises to be very interesting and satisfactory to the people of the county.

The program committee of the Thompson Boys' club met with the leader, Rev. Stephen T. Livingstone, and County Y. M. C. A. Secretary J. H. Corbett and drew up a program for the fall and winter activities. Their program will include practical talks and demonstrations on physical fitness and health habits, nature study hikes, first aid, Bible study, discussion of life problems, debates, group and team games, etc. The boys of the program committee are Putnam Livingstone, Fred

Brooklow and Peter Burnette.

Putnam was caught during Friday in the reflection of the dancing holdup that started Webster when a gunman casually happened into a lunch cart in that city and ordered eight men who were on sandwiches, coffee, coffee and other such substantial foods to throw up their hands while he relieved them of their money. The gunman impressed what he was saying upon his cowed audience by letting them look into the barrel of a revolver that seemed to cover everything within a radius of ten blocks, according to accounts later given by those who were involved in the affair. One man who had as much as his life and lost it for granted he was to be the first victim of the holdup man, plunged through a screen door, without awaiting the formality of opening it, and mentioning that he would "get that guy," the holdup man followed after. An alarm for police brought immediate response and resulted in the arrest of the gunman who attempted the holdup raid made in Westchester at the time of the occurrence talked much of it here on Friday.

The man under arrest is a Pole.

Sheriff Charles A. Gates came here from Williamette Friday morning and adjoined since the October term of the Windham county superior court, which has been engaged in the disposition of cases on his trip to New Haven on the 28th, 29th and 30th of this month.

Eight hundred selected boys between the ages of 15-20 years, representing the various clubs, Y. M. C. A. groups and Sunday school classes from every city and county in the state, will gather for a three-day conference together on the theme "Fit for Service."

The conference is held under the joint auspices of the State Sunday School association and the Y. M. C. A., and the leaders of both organizations will be there for the purpose of giving direction to this great gathering of 800 of the best and most able boys of which the state can boast.

One of the most prominent conference speakers are as follows: Fred H. Smith of N. Y. C., who has been called America's foremost speaker to young men; Eugene C. Foster, boys' work secretary of the New York Y. M. C. A.; Rev. John

L. Davis, pastor of First M. E. church,

New Britain; Harry T. Baker, boys' work secretary of the international committee,

Y. M. C. A.

The conference opens at 2 p. m. Friday,

Oct. 28th, and closes at 5 p. m. Sunday,

Oct. 30th. Every minute of the time will be brim full of interesting, helpful and character building activities. The Windham county will be allowed to send 50 delegates to this conference, and it is the plan as far as possible to give
